Credit Unions to Better Connect to Automobile Inventories

Detroit, Michigan, March 25, 2008 - Autodata Solutions, Inc. announced today that Autoland, Inc. will continue to use Autodata Solutions' core automotive data to support their one-stop online portal for credit union members to find vehicle information and to purchase cars. Autoland, Inc. will also license Spanish vehicle data to broaden their offering to connect dealer partner inventories with credit unions.

Autoland, Inc. presents auto buying information and offers consultative services to credit union members. Autodata Solutions' has 17 years of experience providing industry-validated data and technology applications to the automotive industry.

"In order to offer the best experience possible for our clients, we think a technology provider should be the most reliable and that is why we chose Autodata Solutions as a partner," said Mark Chandler, President, Autoland, Inc. "Autodata's strength lies in its technology that manages complex vehicle configurations so consumers can select vehicles quickly and easily."

"Our solutions help our customers deliver powerful marketing services. Autodata has had a continuous relationship with Autoland since 2000, and we are pleased to extend our relationship into the future and continue to expand our offerings and capabilities," said Mike Lefteris, Manager, Business Development, Autodata Solutions, Inc.

Autoland Inc. provides credit union members with an auto-buying experience by providing all aspects of vehicle shopping online. Members can access a selection of vehicles, calculate payments, configure a car, and compare new or used vehicles, all without having to leave your home or office. Visit www.autoland.com.
